Canada Savings Bonds are secure because they're backed by all the resources of Canada.

Income.

They pay good income, an average annual interest to maturity in 1985 of 9.13%. Each $100 bond begins with $8.50 interest the first year and then pays $9.25 interest for each of the remaining 8 years.

Flexibility.

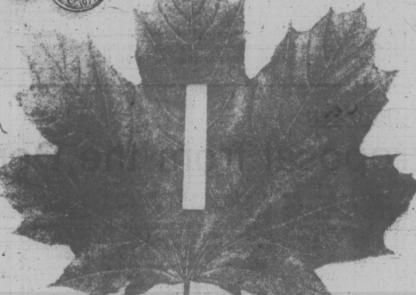

They're flexible, because you can buy Canada Savings Bonds in various denominations, for cash or on instalments wherever you bank or invest. And they're cashable anytime, at their full face value plus earned interest. This year, the purchase limit has been set at $15,000.

Two Kinds.

A. Fully registered bonds. These bonds are registered as to both principal and interest. The interest is sent to you automatically by cheque each year on November 1st. They are available in denominations of $500, $1,000 and $5,000.

B. Coupon bonds. These bonds are registered as to principal and have annual interest coupons payable to bearer. They are available in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000.

Annual Interest to Maturity

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF CANADA SAVINGS BONDS DATED BETWEEN NOVEMBER 1, 1962 AND NOVEMBER 1, 1973 INCLUSIVE

Owners of these bonds are reminded that they are entitled to receive the attractive cash bonus payments announced in 1974, provided they hold their bonds to the effective cash bonus payment dates. Information on these cash bonus payments may be obtained wherever you bank or invest.

Hold on to these bonds—they're a great investment.

Some wise man with a sharp pencil in his department pointed out to the minister that 10 per cent of the pharmacare recipients are using a third of the budget.

In the interests of cost efficiency and no free lunches, a valid area for study is pinpointed. A consultant is hired and a control program devised, to begin Jan. 1. So far, fair enough.

But the minister then issues a scare warning that upsets everyone on the basis of some "reports" he's received about elderly patients being drugged up in nursing homes. What reports? What's been done about it? How many

But no, a storm of anxiety was whipped up, fears of mistreatment generated. Really, Vander Zalm's style of politicking has become unforgiveable. Score points off welfare bums and dead people if you will but to use the plight of the helpless elderly to grab headlines goes too far. If this is efficient, businesslike, bottom-of-the-line government, many people would rather have a few humanitarian wastrels back in his department, thank you very much.

Often the manner in which we are important to point out that any Canagoverned raises questions about the diah refusing to provide census infor-principles of those who control our mation is subject to a $500 fine and six lives in a very real sense. A classic example surfaced last month when four Statistics Canada employees were reprimanded for forming a consulting firm to sell statistical data on Canadians to American firms. Trade Minister Jean Chretien chalked it up as a case of "simple moonlighting. The minister would neither identify the employees nor say how they were disciplined.

As Elmer McKay (PC-Central Nova), the MP who raised the issue remarked at the time, "such material should be kept confidential since the this country. In light of this bureau has the legislative muscle to Canadians." Perhaps it is even more important government department to lout.

months in jail. Yet these 'moonlighters' - to use Chretien's gentle term - sell this information to foreign firms and receive a light slap on the wrist. It would lead one to believe that the employees had at least tacit consent from the government or they wouldn't have tried such an outlandish scheme - a viewpoint which McKay supported when interviewed by the Times in Vancouver

If Statistics Canada has blemishes, there is little that can be trusted in "moonlighting" Ottawa should

Canadians reading news reports of this incident are quite likely to say they will not co-operate with Statistics Canada in future if they are going to be part of the raw data neatly packaged for a foreign firm or government. Re: Canada Deserves Better, Times

This was one of the most reassuring newspaper pieces I have seen since con ing to Victoria over nine months ago from Winnipeg. I share your concern at the im-plications of Mr. Richardson's resignation from the federal cabinet, but I believe that if it was partially over the bilingualism issue, he is not representative of the views of the average Manitoban. Somehow, despite the prejudice suggested by the "Manitoba schools question" of over fifty years ago, there is in the province now a much more rational approach to the rights of minorities and a greater appreciation of the contributions of the French in Canada to its greatness. Unfortunately, the same cannot be said about Alberta and British

The Social Credit Party sold longterm memberships too cheaply a couple of years ago and almost found itself broke by last week. Their good business practice doesn't seem to have improved much since the Columbia River treaty was conceived.

They seem to have escaped this time by selling some over-priced wine and some cheap trinkets like the Vandershovel. Once when Mr. Nyerere came to visit. the villagers gathered to meet with him outside the community hall. The schoolchildren must have known that Mohamedi had something he was planning to ask the president because they parted away from him leaving him to stand alone in the middle of the dirt clearing. Mohamedi was just 16, but it was clear to all who knew him that he would someday be one of his country's leaders.

"Mwalimu, last week you made a speech saying we didn't need money to build the nation. In our school we plant corn and cabbage so that we always have plenty to eat, but we can't wear corn. We can't make shoes of cabbage. How can we buy the things we need if we don't have

Mr. Nyerere didn't answer for a moment and everyone was waiting to detect whether Mohamedi's question would be considered an impertinence. Then Mr. Nyerere sat forward and planted his hands on his knees. "That's right, Mohamedi. That's just what I said." He turned to a government official who, was sitting near him, a man who was obviously wealthier and better dressed than the villagers.

"Lend me a five-shilling note," he told him, and when the official hesitated, Mr. Nyerere poked fun: "Don't warry, my friend, you'll get your money back."

"See this, Mohamedi?" Mr. Nyerere waved the note in the air. "See this? It's money, So what? Can I eat it? Can I wear it? What good is it? It say the life the na-

There had been a dispute growing between the villagers and an official at the local government agricultural office. The official complained to Mr. Nyerere that the villagers were not planting their tobacco far enough apart — the one meter necessary to yield the best crop. Mr. Nyerere asked to be taken to the fields.

He walked quickly along the dirt road and the agricultural officer hurried to keep in step. The villagers followed close behind. At the fields Mr. Nyerere asked to speak to Kalikenye, the oldest man in the villager to the three three transfers of index. village: "Are these your tobacco fields?" Kalikenye answered, "Yes, we are growing very fine tobacco." Mr. Nyerere fished n his pocket and retrieved a tape measure. He bent over taking care not to disturb the young plants, and measured the distance from the stem to stem. Then he stood holding the tape at its measured length and asked the agricultural officer to read out what it said. "It's one meter," he read out what it said. "It's one meter," he said so softly that almost no one could hear. Mr. Nyerere asked him to repeat it again louder so that the villagers would know. The official spoke out: "The tobac-

Thais Re-Open Closed Schools

BANGKOK (AP) — Thailand's new military rulers reopened schools and universities today but kept shut Bangkok's Thammasat University, the stronghold of the city's leftist students and the site of bloody fighting that led to the military coup Oct. 6.

Gen. Serm Na Nakorn, commander-in-chief of the army, said in a broadcast that police and military guards will be on the campuses during school hours. He urged parents and teachers to remain calm and "not be worried about kidnapping of students."

There have been rumors that left-wing groups may kidnap students in Bangkok to create unrest.

The military government also vowed to step up propaganda as part of an anti-Com-

From the renowned Jaguar factory in Coventry, England, emerges the XJ-S, a new Jaguar. It is, like all Jaguars, shaped and engineered in accord with classic principles, with enduring standards of motorcar design. Its form and face, however, are new to the modern Jaguar line. It is a Jaguar to suit the changing times, with an ultra-efficient V-12 engine, fuel injection: Bosch-Lucas electronic with separate automatic cold start injector, advanced bumper protection system, driver eye-level warning light array and allspeed, all-weather tires. Yet the S-type remains true to 44 years of Jaguar tradition; indeed it expresses the essence of that heritage as a two-door, four-seater coupe with striking lines, exquisite refinement and outstanding - precisely the type of car that made Jaguar

The 80th minute was the scoring one in the Vancouver Island Soccer League's pre-mier division Sunday.

In three games, three goals were scored at that time.

It was a happy moment for Cosmo Royals and Gorge United, but did nothing for Davline.

Royals edged a stubborn Powell River Villa 1-0 at Topaz Park when Bob Mackie, taking a fine cross from Ross Manson, headed in the game's only goal - at 80 min-

Dale Marshall scored the winner on a penalty kick, also at the 80-minute mark, as Gorge United nipped Oak Bay 2-1 at Heywood Avenue Park. In Sunday's third match, played at Nanaimo, DaVinci's Mike Lusin scored in the 80th minute, but the tally merely eased the pain of defeat for his club, which lost, 2-1, to Nanaimo City. The verdict kept the Hub City squad in a first-place tie with unbeaten

Upsets Confuse Football Picture

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Calgary Stampeders scored major upsets Sunday in the Canadian Football League to further confuse the playoff picture in both Eastern and Western conferences with one week of the regular season remaining.

The Tiger-Cats increased their playoff chances in the Eastern Conference as they defeated Ottawa Rough Riders 25-6 on a rain-soaked field at Ottawa, while Calgary rode the brilliant passing of quarterback John Hufnagel for a 36-28 triumph over EdEskimos in danger of a third-place Western finish.

The loss was meaningless to clinched first-place, but vital to the Tiger-Cats, who slipped into third, one point ahead of Montreal Alouettes and one

The Argonauts moved into argonauts moved into second place at least tempo-rarily by rallying Saturday for a 25-16 victory over Brit-rish Columbia Lions at Toron-to, and Montreal fell to fourth by dropping a 23-13 decision to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers In Winnipeg.
The hectic weekend left the idle Saskatchewan Roughrid-ers one point ahead of Ed-monton and two ahead of Win-nipeg. A Winnipeg victory over B.C. next weekend at Vancouver, coupled with a Calgary victory at home against Saskatchewan, would leave Winnipeg in first place and Edmonton Eskimos, reigning Grey Cup champions, in third spot.

Toronto visits Hamilton and Ottawa travels to Montreal for closing EFC games next weekend. Hufnagel threw three touchdown passes after the Stam-peders came to life on a 35-yard touchdown romp by defensive end Bob Martin, and Rudy Linterman. The 13-yard toss to Linterman came on a fake field goal in the fourth quarter and left Lemmerman with little chance to rally Edmonton.

He threw a six-yard touchdown pass to Tyrone Walls and a two-point pass to George McGowan with less to regain control when Steve mid-field with nine minutes

Running back Jimmy Edwards sparked Hamilton with touchdown runs of one and eight yards. Terry Evanshen scored on a 27-yard pass from quarterback Jimmy Jones. Ken Clark kicked three converts, a field goal and a sin-

Why Beeb and Sandown Park make a great combina-tion and probably spell out what is meant by that old saying: horses for courses.

Last year, Why Beeb came to Sandown winless from a Vancouver campaign of 14 starts. He won his first and finished up the season with two more victories.

.This season Why Beeb, now a seven-year-old gelding, had better luck at Ex-Park. He won a pair and had earnings of $7,452.

So back to Sandown. In his first start he chased the good. Autumn Glen home at six and one-half furlongs for a deadheat with Mr. Hess for sec-

JUNIOR LEAGUE RETURNS TO FOLD

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)

— The British Columbia Junior Hockey League will again ome under the jurisdiction of ingham Blazers. But in an the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, Ernie McLean, league has agreed to rejoin BCJHL board chairman said the BCAHA.

Saturday.

McLean, who is coach of tion in a dispute over the league's inclusion of the Bell-the Western Canada Hockey League New Westminster Bruins, said the BCAHA agreed to the inclusion of the Blazers, but that the Washing-ton state team would not be allowed to compete for this season's Centennial Cup.

He said the Blazers would carry American status cards'.

count on Bob (Burrows) and Bill (Robinson) being forced fo carry the load."

Scorpions Work to Divide Load

Bob Burrows has carried a big scoring load in each of the past two seasons. Robinson, the Chemainus native who played for Canada's national team, arrives this year to ease the burden but execu-tives still look for more balance and depth than two men can provide.

And they think the depth is there, especially after the per-formances, of rookie Mike Gains and Gary Budd.

I can tell by your fretting and stewing that Christmas is coming up again. For years I've played dumb and ended up with prize packages . . like in (1969), a portable oxygen inhaler; (1973), a leopard skin raincoat; in (1974), a complete.

In each of those years I assured you, with happy tears, that the gift was exactly of the kitchen.

But, if you feel that it wouldn't be Christmas unless you spent some money of me, I'll tell you I want furniture this year, I'd like a Microrange and I sure could use a dishwasher. I've been shopping for months and I've found that The Traders Furniture and Appliance Store on Finlayson Street right beside The Chinese Village has everything I want. They're open nightly 'til 9 p.m., Saturdays 'til 6. They're even open on Sundays Noon 'til 5. Kids'... Qur floor lamp has never been right since you knocked it over. Surprise me with a new one from The Traders; or maybe you can get me one of those Rockwell Electronic Calculators that do just about everything; the one with the memory is the one i need to help me with grocery shopping... they've got it on sale at $13.88.

Also, our sofa is showing a little wear, and The Traders have some real beauties. ... loveseats and chairs to match ... do you read me? We can put the old one downstairs; or, you can trade it in at The Traders.

And, one more thing ... for once in your life, listen to momma ..., don't go shopping around like pupples at a flower show. I've done all that and it is exhausting.

They're going to draw for one on Christmas eve and I'm sure you'd like a new Color TV this Christmas. You get one chance to win for every $25 you spend. Just drive straight down to The Traders on Finlayson St. They're almost always

FBI in Bomb Probe

WASHINGTON - The farreaching, highly sensitive, U.S. investigation of the recent bombing death here of former Chilean Ambassador Orlando Letelier has failed so far to score any significant breakthrough in solving the killing, according to informed that it already has prompted discussions involving U.S. Attorney General Edward H. Levi and Central Intelligence Agency director George Bush. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has also been informed of developments.

Letelier, 44, former ambas-sador to the United States, foreign minister and minister oreign minister and minister of defence in the Marxist government of the late Chilean President Salvador Allende, died Sept. 21 when a bomb exploded beneath his car as he drove along Embassy Rowhere. One other passenger, Ronni K. Moffitt, also died.

The bombing is, under investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The CIA is "co-operating" in the probe, at least to the extent of supplying intelligence data, according to government officials.

The probe — here and abroad — has produced no major suspects, these sources say. FBI attempts to determine the nature of the bomb that caused the explosion have remained inconclusive, the sources say.

The investigation of Lete-lier's death, moreover, has become partly intertwined with a separate investigation by Caribbean nations of the crash of a Cuban airliner off Barbados Oct. 6, in which 73 persons died. A group of Ven-ezuelans and Cuban exiles has been held in Caracas on charges of blowing up the Cuban plane. ·Cuban plane.

CIA officials, nevertheless, say they believe that operatives of the present Chilean military junta did not take part in Letelier's killing, according to informed sources. CIA Director Bush expressed this view in a conversation late last week with Secretary of State Kissinger, the sources said. DEAR OWW: You're probably not as weird as you think. We learn more as our plant family increases in variety, and our tastes change. Plants we never dreamed of having are very much in demand.

The carnivorous plants, such as the sundew, are not decorative, but people like them because, for a plant, they do something unusual—they eat insects. The method-by which the sundew does its bloom a tiny white flower that opens in the morning and closes at noon. It meditates the rest of the day.

They must live in a ter-rarium, in good light, planted in sphagnum moss, not pot-ting mix. Insects are hard to come by in a terrarium, so sundews will really appreciate a puicy fruit fly now and then. (Have you ever caught a fruit fly? Good luck!) Please don't feed them meat; they

The Most Popular Power Tool

The portable electric drill is the most popular power tool in the country. Anr for good reasons. It's a versatile tool that can do more than just drill holes. With the right accessories it can also drive screws, sand, polish, grind and remove rust.

On top of all that, it's inextoday. Look at the cacti — pensive. Prices start at $10 al-and bromeliads. though some models run on up to well over $100.

> Why the big difference in prices? If you're shopping for a drill, that's probably the first question you'll ask. Basically, more money gets you more power and durability. Drills are sized according to the largest shank that will fit their chucks. As the size in-creases, so does the power.

The average homeowner can satisfy his requirements, with either of the two small sizes. Even a %-inch drill can bore holes (in wood) well over fit into 1/4-inch chucks.

Which is best, %-inch or %-inch? For light work such as drilling, the smaller drill is fine. And it will cost less than a %-inch drill. But if you plan to use your drill for more de-manding jobs such as sanding, or wire brushing, get a %-inch drill. It will do the work better, and hold up longer, and if you plan to do a lot of demanding work, get a drill with ball or needle bearings rather than simple sleeve

Variable speed? This is a ink concrete, steel, brick, ceramic tile and plastics. It lets you match drill speed to the material being drilled. Variable speed also lets you use your drill to drive small screws. In my experience, variable speed drills don't have the power to drive large screws, but there's a solution to this problem. It's an accessory called speed reducer. It fits into the drill's chuck, and gears it way down for more power. Even a light-duty 4-inch drill can drive screws

Many of us will take in one or more of these events and, in so doing, help a number of worthy causes sponsored by church auxiliaries, volunteer groups and organizatioms.

Among these is the Auxiliary for the Greater Victoria Association for the Retarded, with an annual Christmas Fair set for Saturday, December 4, in First United Church Hall, 932 Balmoral

According to Rita Stringer, hard-working publicity chairman of that auxiliary, there will be "lots of bargains and goodles," as well as a wide selection of crafts made by the retarded through the W. M. Clark Centre, Victor and Dogwood Schools, Glendale and from handicapped Rover Scouts of Victoria.

With that information, Mrs.

things are needed to make this event a success," she writes, "so we do ask the public to give us anything they might like to donate."

Nearly new and used arti-cles are needed. That means jewelry, toys, knicks-knacks, attic treasures, prizes for a Lucky 7 stall, books, Christmas gifts and novelties.

Plants, sewing, knitting and used children's clothing are also on Rita's list, as well as "good old-fashioned home baking" which she says is "in a class by itself.'

Any of these items can be left at the Wee-Bit-Worn sery program for the retarded Shoppe, 1301 Gladstone Avearable at the G. R. Pearkes Clinic. Shoppe, 1301 Gladstone Ave-

Keep Shrubs Away from Walls

continues in the home garden a few important points can be mentioned as aids to newcom-

One of the first places where shrubs are wanted is in front of the house, against the foundation. It may be a shock when I suggest that this is the should be planted, if indeed, house foundation, all around, is likely to be the poorest on the property. If the house is relatively new, it may still hide pieces of lumber, wire netting, stucco dash, and lime. It is likely to consist of the lumps of compacted soil bulldozed into position when the lot was levelled after comor not be a thin layer of finer soil on top.

Little improvement has taken place in whatever number of years since building, for seldom does this strip receive more than a token amount of rain during the year. If nor previously planted it has not been artificially watered, cultivated, renewed with mulches, or fertilized.

All these conditions can be corrected, but still the founda-tion stip is not a good planting place for shrubs.

By laying out an informal bed several feet from the house every shrub will display its full beauty on all sides in-stead of having one side flattened against the house walls or windows shutting out light and air, and adding little to the view. I believe too that greater care in selection of shrubs results when the plantdows. They become four di-mensional instead of being viewed from the outer, one for sound barriers to protect our hearing sense and gas angle only.

Today with increasing need attractive shrubs in the front garden makes a lot of sense. The greater the expanse of green leaves, the more purifi-cation of air takes place we are told. And this we can believe as we blissfully inhale woodland and forest air.

Wherever shrubs are to be planted, and for whatever reasons, the soil must be worked over first, removing roots of perennial weeds large stones and possibl debris, and discovering the type of soil. It may need the immediate addition of humus, soil' from old compost, very old cow or horse manure, old leaves, boosted for bulk with a coarse grind of peatmoss.

Do not use fertilizer with these fall plantings. In our winter mild spells young growth must not be encouraged, for it will likely be blackened in the normally expected frosty period early in the new year. shrubs of many kinds are fa-vorites for plantings in front gardens. When given the pro-tection of other kinds having bulk or a densely twiggy

But There's Always a Pint of Bitter!

IN THE BRITISH MUSEthe past, we gazed on wonders, A mosaic lifted from Red Samian ware from Gaul out of which Romans in Britain once drank their wine.

"Did you notice that pub on the corner?" I asked Win in my museum whisper.

The pub was a tidy little oasis only a minute or two away. Appropriately, if was named "The Museum."

"I noticed it," Win whispered back. "Let's go!"

We retreated from Roman Britain to the here-and-now of London's Bloomsbury. It was past noon. The pub was crowded — all tables taken, patrons jammed three-deep at the bar. We hesitated in the doorway, but only for a mo-ment. It was a cheerful confuried us inside and toward the

Health Food Store Razed

A health food store was de-stroyed by fire in Sooke early Sunday.

In Sooke

Westcoast Road, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bender, was valued at about $5,000 by Sooke RCMP.

The store was outside both the Sooke and Otter Point fire districts, When police arrived, the building was already gut-ted and the Benders were hosing other buildings with a gar-den hose to prevent the flames from spreading.

The Sooke fire chief also showed up and helped police and the Benders throw buck-

RCMP said the fire may have been started by an old electrical appliances or a
